In addition to the long-known online score database, you now have the option to compare your scoring with some of the best Blockout II world players in the new World Ranking section.

Just be sure to upload your scores using always the same, unique name, and once you registered a few of them (five scores it's enough) go to the list and check your rank.

Currently there are at most 50 regular players in each category, so you won't need to scroll down a lot to see your name listed! ;)
