Dear Blockout Fans,

a new Forum was installed. You can access it under:

<http://www.blockout.net/forum/>

All threads and users were converted to the new Forum software based on phpBB. This will allow for a more robust and long-lived forum with (hopefully) much better spam protection.

Unfortunately, your old password could not be converted. You can use your existing username, you just have to request a new password. You have to know the email-address you registered your account with. If you have forgotten that, you can login to the old forum and then look it up under

User Menu >> Your Details

Your Details

i am very sorry for the the inconvenience.
